The chapter presents a panel discussion for students planning to build a teaching portfolio to support their venture into academics. Members of the panel are experienced Isenberg PhD students, who will talk about their teaching philosophies, methods of conceptualizing the courses, experiences with their teaching assignments (within and outside the classroom), and their teaching goals for the future. The panel would also contribute towards preparing PhD students who are set to teach in their subsequent years.

Panelists:

- Farbod Farhadi
  PhD Candidate
  and recipient of Outstanding Doctoral Student Teaching Award (2013)

- Ameera Ibrahim
  PhD Candidate
  in Management Science

- Dong "Michelle" Li
  PhD Candidate
  in Management Science

- Tulay Varol
  PhD Candidate
  in Management Science

- Heng Chen
  PhD Candidate
  in Management Science